

Learning through Debates

Department of Geography 2021-22

The department of Geography conducted Debate on the topic “ Man and disasters” . The first year class was divided into four groups. Two groups have the opinion man is the ultimate reason for all disasters happening today and two groups opined that not only man but also environmental factors result in disasters. The discussion was very healthy one.

