

A seminar was organised by 'Oasis', the geography club of Govt.College, Kariavattom on the topic Scope of Geography , Abroad at 19-2-2019, 11 am. The purpose of the seminar was to understand the prospects of geography abroad through the words of Harald Kaechele, Scientist in Agricultural Landscape studies from Germany.

Dr. Prasad T.K., Head of the Department of Geography delivered the introductory speech. He welcomed his former student and research scholar Smt. Dhanya to formally introduce Mr. Harald Kaechele. She welcomed him for the talk.

Kaechele had prepared two presentations with regards to the topic at hand. The first presentation aimed at giving an understanding of prospects of higher studies in Germany with special emphasis on 'ZALF'- the university he is currently working in. The second presentation was focused on his present research on Biodiversity Hotspots of World. He shared the success stories of Indian Geographers whom he had worked with which was found very inspiring. He also stressed the importance of giving back to the society, by dedicating your life to education and research so as to built a better future for the coming generations.

After the session he interacted with the students and answered their queries. Issues like the refugee situation of Germany, their national policies were discussed. He was able to give excellent and motivating reply to the queries. After the interactive session, Shalu K.B. invited Dr. T.K.Prasad to present the token o f appreciation and to express our gratitude. The seminar concluded with the Vote of Thanks of Ala Fathima.
